die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause,
which is the second stage of seminal

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

To everyone who settles his old subscription account or makes a new one between now and Christmas, we will give as a premium the Continental magazine, a handsomely illustrated journal published monthly. This applies to both daily and weekly, but not to club rates.

IT PAYS.

A man who has had a good deal of experience in the world's way, says: When I go into a new town I look over the advertisements of the paper to ascertain whether its citizens are enterprising or not. If the paper has a full line of "ads" I say at once that this is a flourishing and energetic community, and the paper has a good, healthy look. Everyone should take his home paper. It is worth much more to you than the big city journals. It knows your wants and sympathizes with them. Its proprietors are your neighbors and friends. It gives you more news of immediate interest to you and it always writes up your locality and champions your cause. The interests of the citizens and the local paper are identical. If you prosper the paper prospers, or at least should. Support your home paper, not grudgingly, but liberally. Advertise—advertise, if you would prosper. Look around you and what do you see? You see that the men who succeed in business are great advertisers in the papers. The merchant who advertises niggardly is the man who saves at the spigot and loses at the bung.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Philadelphia Press very truthfully avers that America is to be congratulated upon possessing two such enterprising citizens as James Gordon Bennett and John W. Mackay, and adds that "their combination to lay two trans-Atlantic cables shows a magnificent spirit of enterprise which will benefit this country to a very great extent."

What has become of those charges Dr. Bergstein was to have fled against the present management of the Insane Asylum—Carson Appeal.

There has been no meeting of the board, but at the next meeting Dr. Bergstein is going to unload. He says, "don't be in a hurry, neighbor, you'll get enough."

In the Episcopal convention Monday, the resolution of Rev. Mr. Haskins of Quincy, relating to the establishment of a school board with a capital of a hundred million was rejected.

Connecticut has 297 Congregational meeting houses, with 54,083 members.

Of the 167 students in the Texas University, 40 are women.

St. Louis has 20,000 scholars studying German.

Haytian Matters.

PORT AU PRINCE, October 24. Order has been completely restored here. Fifteen hundred lives were lost and damage to the amount of $40,000,000 was done.

During the recent massacre, the Haytian war steamer Desallines arrived, and under the American flag attacked Miragoan. The Government troops were repulsed with severe loss. General Piquet was mortally wounded.

Army Reforms.

MADRID, October 24. A Royal decree has been issued, providing that henceforth, general officers shall hold staff appointments for only three years. The enforcement of the decree will involve the resignation of a Captain-General, several Lieutenant-Generals, five Field Marshals and 40 Brigadiers. This is the first step in the new scheme for a reform of the army.

An explosion took place at Wilkes-barre, Pennsylvania, yesterday afternoon in a squib factory, burning five girl operatives to a crisp, and injuring four others.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

(FROM DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

Opposition From His Own Party.
 Boston, October 24.

The following address was issued to-day by the "Old Line" Democrats: "We believe that Democratic success in the future can be neither deserved nor achieved unless we free ourselves from the charge of supporting candidates who have lowered the standard of political morality. We appeal to your patriotism and sober common sense to oppose the re-election of Benjamin F. Butler. Caring nothing for party or principle he subordinates public interest to his aggrandizement. Should he again be elected, the Democratic party of Massachusetts would be held responsible for his administrative acts and eccentricities in the past and future, while no responsibility attaches to us for any acts of Mr. Robinson. Such being our belief, we cannot hesitate to declare that we intend to do all that may be in our power to secure the defeat of General Butler, and we call on all Democrats to join with us in such action."

The Herald says it was announced on the best, but not on official authority, that S. A. Abbott, nominated to the second place on the Democratic State ticket, declines. Abbott informed his friends that he had no sympathy with Butler.

Keene All Right.

New York, October 24. James R. Keene has wheeled right around from the most pronounced bear on the street, to an outspoken bull. Mr. Keene, himself, acknowledges the fact. Two years ago he declared that the market was going down, and then took a start as a bear in the face of Vanderbilt and Gould, and maintained his position until today. In June last, rumors were plenty that Keene's losses on the bear side of the market had ruined him, and that he was really bankrupt, without a dollar. It was said he sold his house at Newport, in order to get money to live on, and leading brokers went so far as to refuse his business.

The Way They Do East.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., October 23. At Wampam, Pennsylvania, a piece of ground, claimed by the Pittsburg, Cleveland and Toledo Railroad and by the Pennsylvania road, is in the possession of the former, who have it fortified and garrisoned by twenty men. The Pennsylvania Company sent fifty men to-day to seize it. There was skirmishing all day. Both sides sent for reinforcements. There was a disturbance to-day, also, west of this city, where the dispute is with the Eagle Furnace Company. The tracklayers were assaulted by workmen from the furnace, but the latter were driven off.

Coming Down.

CHICAGO, October 24. The new freight tariff was issued yesterday by the Iowa pool lines on the business from Chicago via Council Bluffs, to points in Idaho and Montana. It makes the reductions rendered necessary by the competition of the Northern Pacific. Passenger rates from Des Moines east are demoralized, and a conference for the removal of the trouble will be held Thursday. H. L. Shute has been appointed general freight agent, of the Iowa Central Railroad.

A Railroad Absorbed.

HARRISBURG, October 24. The New York Lacawana Western Railroad Co. has absorbed the Pennsylvania Company, under the same name, and the articles are filed. Among the Directors of the new road are, Jay Gould, Samuel Sloan, Wm. E. Dodge, George Bliss, Sidney Dillon, Russell Sage and John F. Dillon, of New York.

Army of the Cumberland.

CINCINNATI, October 24. The Society of the Army of the Cumberland formed this morning at the hotel and marched with the band to the Grand Opera House and held a business meeting. The society was led by its President, and General Sheridan, who had General Rosecrans on his right.

Kuklux in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 24. The Rank county Kuklux trial began yesterday. Calvin Bush testified that the mob stripped him and gave him 175 lashes. Witness undressed and showed his scars. Ben Sanders testified that he was shot three times and left for dead.

Fire in Montana.

MILES CITY, October 23. Thirteen of the older and smaller business houses of this place, burned last night. The flames were finally checked by blowing up a building with powder. The remainder of the business section had a narrow escape. Loss $75,000, insurance unknown.

Murder and Suicide.

NEWCOMERTOWN, O., October 24. A. Frezen, a farmer, ten miles east of here, murdered his wife and three children, and then killed himself.

French transports, with men and war material have arrived in Chinese waters.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

(FROM DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

Defended His Wife.

LEADVILLE, Col., October 24. At a boarding-house, yesterday morning Frank Gallagher, a miner, shot dead James B. Garvin, another miner. Gallagher recently married a comely young woman concerning whom Garvin repeatedly made insulting remarks. The two men boarded at the same house, and at breakfast this morning, after a few hot words, Garvin pulled a revolver, which was the signal for a general fusillade, both emptying their revolvers. Garvin was hit several times, and soon expired. Gallagher was untouched, and surrendered to the officers.

An Enterprising Road Agent.

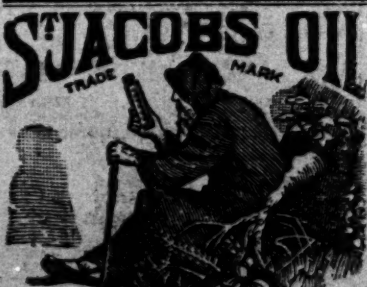

PORTLAND, October 24. An Oregonian special says: Both of the west-bound stages were robbed yesterday, four miles from Meshama by a single highwayman. He only found a few dollars among the passengers of the first stage, but on the second, he secured Well Fargo's treasure box; how much it contained is not yet reported. No resistance was made by any of the passengers on either stage.

Report Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, October 24. A telegram was received at the War Department to-day from Crook, confirming the report that the Chiricahuas Indians left in Mexico, are on their way to San Carlos.

Two More Victims.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., October 24. Two more victims of yesterday's explosion at Kingston, Mary Quinn and Hattie Moss, died this morning in terrible agony.

A BUSY LIFE.

One of Nevada's Representative Men.

WHAT INDUSTRY AND ENERGY CAN DO

A Career Full of Interesting Incidents and Useful Labors.

The public is often amused and sometimes outraged at the attacks upon men, who, by chance, are placed in positions which draw upon them the fire of political criticism. It is really comical to a man who looks at it from an unprejudiced standpoint, to see men who have practiced the loosest morals themselves, endeavor to convince people that another is a public enemy, because he fails to fall in with their ideas in the management of any large interest which may be entrusted to his charge. Usually such interests are identical with those of the country in which they are located, but still there is no allowance made for that, and the owners are seized upon as a hobby by some party or faction of a party, and discussed in very candid language. The victim is soon made to appear a tyrant by his enemies, and a martyr by his friends, while, in truth, he is far from being either. He is more likely to be quite an ordinary sort of a man, engaged in doing the best for himself, practicing the principles held by the average man, his assailants included, which is to get the most they can for all they do and all they sell. They insist, however, upon his conducting his business upon an ideal line of rectitude and benevolence high above any known in commerce, consulting only the wishes and needs of his patrons, instead of the interests of his employers, and they claim high rewards from the public for their bitter and gross abuse of him, for refusing to yield to them. The man thus assailed has no compensation for the infliction, and must stand it as best he can. It has become fashionable among that class to bear in silence whatever may be heaped upon them. They resort to a mixture of argument and philosophy to justify themselves to themselves for any acts that draw censure upon them, and with this they and their friends must content themselves. Nevada is not without examples of

THIS PECULIAR HABIT

Of modern society. She has several citizens who have been pretty well advertised, although they never ran for office or courted notoriety. A conspicuous example is H. M. Yerington, who, though he has done more than any other one man that ever lived to develop Nevada's resources, has hardly been favorably mentioned by the press, while pages of an unfriendly nature have been written about him. Even papers that were friendly to him, personally, have taken little more pains than he has himself to affect public opinion in his favor. Other men have found big mines and have taken millions out of our mountains, but no man has laid out the money in real improvement and secured it for the State that he has. It is well known that no such railroads as crown the mountains would be here if his advice had been against it. His powerful influence has always been used with millionaires like Sharon and Mills for the building of permanent works and the development of large properties. He was earnest in the promotion of the C. & C. road, particularly, and it has only been exceeded in importance to the interests of this State by the overland road itself. The Comstock would have paid well without any railroad. Eureka would have employed more men and horses, and used more hay and grain, if there had been no locomotive there. Austin turned out dividends before the Nevada Central was built, but never has since; but with the Carson & Colorado it was very different. In a country devoid of timber and short of water, with mines of peculiar ore, much of it rebellious, and generally of unknown quantities and uncertain values, it was difficult for even the prospector to make headway, and when it came to developing mines to great depths, or working large quantities of ore cheaply, it could not be done. With a railroad, however, new life was breathed into the vast and silent region that had lain so long uninhabited. The hay of Mason valley was carried to the markets of the mining camps, and wood, lumber and timber were placed within reach of the mill and mine owner. Towns sprang up, and wealth poured in with the hope of gathering to itself other wealth. This prospect is not yet realized to any great extent, but it is beginning to come, and in the meantime hundreds have been given profitable employment by the genius of the organizer, who planned and provided the main-spring of action. All parts of the State have felt a thrill of life from the enterprise. Washoe county has sent flour, barley, hay, vegetables and fruits to dozens of profitable markets along the line. Douglas sends her timber, Lyon her hay and barley, in constantly-increasing quantities. Many fine valleys have been opened up to settlement, that were almost out of the world before. Many a man has had labor at good wages, who would have had to tramp to other countries, and large properties have developed into riches for their lucky owners, many of whom were poor men before. This, too, only in the beginning of its history. Who can tell what it will do in a hundred years of active service, for the region it reaches? To describe the many large schemes of which Mr. Yerington has been the active mind, would fill a book. His operations in the line of building mills, flumes and railroads for handling wood and lumber have consumed princely sums of money.

ONE AT A TIME

Includes a railroad to haul the logs to the lake, steamers to tow them to the mills upon the other shore, where they are sawed, a railroad nine miles long to carry the lumber to the mountain top, and a flume to float it down to the V. & T. track. The plan for supplying Bodie with wood and lumber, as is expensive but less complex. Mills in the timber south of Mono lake are connected with the mines by a narrow gauge railroad, which carries all they will ever need. Since its inception, Mr. Yerington has been the executive man of the Virginia & Truckee Railroad, which was for some time under his management, the most successful railroad ever built. That is, it was run at the lowest rate of expense in proportion to the gross earnings of any road in history. The Panama road was the most profitable for years and years, but when the Virginia & Truckee was supplying Virginia during the flush times, it was a little ahead of the Panama road. During these times it was in some circles to abuse Mr. Yerington in a very hearty manner. He was represented to be a hard-hearted monopolist, and no one seemed to have the least compunction about saying the worst things about him and his associates. The decline of the Comstock, and the hard times that have followed, have given Mr. Yerington many opportunities to prove that he had a heart, and he has shown it time and again. Rates have been lowered where they directly affected the poorer classes, and all sorts of necessities have fallen in price. At one time railroad rates were of little importance, as no one felt them when money was so plenty, but now they cut a larger figure, and a concession is often a blessing. Those who know Mr. Yerington intimately, say that in private life, he is anything but a small man. He is not one who courts praise, however, and his right hand does not always know what his left hand doeth. It was well known at the time, that he advanced quite a fortune, to help straighten up the business of his old friend H. F. Rice. One of the gentlemen in his office gave the writer several anecdotes illustrating a weakness in his armor, which railroad manager has in guard pretty carefully if he doesn't wish to be imposed upon. His deeds of charity, both large and small, would probably surprise many who see only the live business man in all he does. There is an easy road to his heart through the thin shell of brusqueness, and it is traveled almost daily by the unfortunate. In his own town, many a poor woman has seen a load of wood thrown off at her door that she never got a bill for, and provisions, when no one knew where they came from. He has helped many a broken down man, and some of them, it is said, have turned on him and abused him the most. Many a pass has been given for true charity that never was heard of again. In addition to his railroad, wood and lumber business, Mr. Yerington has been quite an active miner, and has made and spent lots of money that way. His operations were not confined to the stock board, but he pays out good solid coin to miners who are looking for the precious metals. It would be rather interesting to publish a list of the titles he bears, none of which are sinecures, but they, numerous as they are, would only show part of the drains upon his time and energy. He is Vice President and General Superintendent of the Virginia & Truckee road, President and General Superintendent of the Carson & Colorado. He is managing director of the Territorial Enterprise Publishing Company, and takes no little interest in its affairs. It affords some sport for publishers of the little papers of the State to speak of "we newspaper men," when Mr. Yerington is around. He is director in several mines, and a large partner in the Carson and Tahoe Lumber and Flume Co., in the firm of Yerington, Bliss & Co., Yerington & Haynie, and others. Perhaps

THE DISTINGUISHING FEATURE

Of Mr. Yerington's organization is his great energy. He has a very active body as well as a mind, and he never seems to feel the need of a rest or change. He travels much but seldom for pleasure. He takes no interest in the popular resorts and pronounces Monterey and Santa Cruz boring. An enormous amount of the details of all his different branches of business is done by himself. Of course the officers of his roads and his partners in business do a great deal of planning as well as execution, but it is doubtful if any one could wake him up in the night and ask him about any part of any of them without getting a ready and correct answer. He is never still and can be seen any time of the day and often late at night, walking swiftly around the railroad offices and works. If he has any thing to say it is thrown at a man in short, jerky sentences, in distinct and strong, but not musical, tones. Usually half he says has to be caught as he is walking rapidly away. For one so busy he is quite a good-natured man and often relieves the monotony of work with a bit of fun and a hearty laugh. He has been so long at the point of resistance that he has been educated to look for impositions and large demands and his manner often takes on a tone of impatience from more of haste than ill-nature. He can conduct his side of a row, however, as well as the best of fighters, though he often saves the trouble by what the boys would call a "bold bluff." If that won't do he is always ready to argue a case. His brusque manner often leads to antagonisms that he has no desire to provoke, and at the same no opportunity to explain away. Men who have much to do cannot always work their way up to the unpleasant part of a subject with diplomacy and finesse. They have to say what is necessary and then take up something else. This fact is not always recognized by employees and the public. Mr. Yerington is not all a bad man to be sure. His men on the V. & T. claim that they get the best pay of any of their classes in the United States, and they doubtless do. Politics has been the source of much unkind criticism of Mr. Yerington and the GAZETTE has not been of his opinion on all points by any means and it never failed to speak freely where it differed with him. He, like other men, is fond of his own way, and as long as men come into the Legislature and try to take control of his property he is going to try to get his friends in to stand them off. Whether they are right or wrong this is human nature, and any man would do it. He might be expected to have some claim on counties like Ormsby and Esmeralda. Carson has been benefited more by his energy than any other town on the line of either road.

The fine shop there is equipped with the best of machinery and the most difficult jobs can be done. Any one can send for machinery and get it cast, carved and finished in the best style. A fine depot and commodious offices full of men at good salaries help the town. The box factory and lumber yard keep a good many men busy, and help the stores in Carson not a little. If her lucky star had drawn Mr. Yerington to Reno it can be imagined what a start the word would have given her. Instead of the C. & C. through a 300 mile desert a road would be running through the fat valleys of the north. Sierra and Surprise would both, in all probability, be bound to Reno with iron bands. Instead of locating the mills on the uncertain Carson, capitalists would have been induced to build them on the Truckee, where the wheels would never stand for lack of power. Reduction works, foundries and machine shops would have come, of course, and the impetus thus gained would never have been lost, for there is such a field in every direction that the town would have kept going. Mr. Yerington has been in Nevada since 1883 and has been as true a son as she ever had. He did not make money here and spend it elsewhere. He did not have a home in Oakland for his family and board a restaurant here. He has made Nevada his home. Here he has put in the best part of his life, and to all appearances, here he proposes to spend his old age. Nevada has given him joy and sorrow. It has seen him elevated to high estate and again bowed down with grief. It has been the battle field of a busy life where both victory and defeat have been experienced. Here his children were born, here he had the dear delight of seeing them grow up in health and intelligence, and take good places in social and business circles. Here he has seen his second son established in a home of his own and begin life with good prospects. Nevada has become the resting place of several of the loved friends of his early years. Mr. Yerington was born over the line in Canada of intelligent Yankee parents. He has never considered it worth while to notice the reflections of those who slur him on account of the accident of his birth place. He claims to be an American citizen by right of birth and believes that he is as much entitled to a vote as if he had been born in the center of the United States. His father was an American and his children cannot be anything else. He came to Nevada from Cleveland, Ohio, where he was engaged in business some time. He built and ran the Merrimack and only left it to build the Virginia and Truckee. He is now about 50 and hard work more than time has whitened his hair but his tall form is still erect and he is good for many a busy year to come.

Help Them Along.

A grand concert will be given at the Methodist Church next Friday evening for the benefit of the Public Reading Rooms. The committee having the matter in charge have arranged a very entertaining programme, all the local talent in town having volunteered. A choice vocal and literary entertainment can be enjoyed for 25 cents. It is for a noble cause, and should be well attended.

The Races.

The three in five running race yesterday was a closely contested affair. "Overland Pat," a gamey old fellow, 15 years of age, and well known about Reno, proving the winner. Five horses having started, it became necessary to run the 5th heat in order to decide the race. About $3,000 changed hands on the result, the sports and knowing ones falling heavily.

To-day the ladies rode well in the tournament.

The awards will be made at Kimball Hall to-night, after the ball.

After the tournament a mile and repeat trotting race, between Crab and Fred. Arnold, came off. The horses sold even in the pool. Crab won the first heat in 2:46; Arnold won the second heat in 2:40; Crab won the last heat.

Between races Joe Daniels sent Derby's Sir Davy around the track.

The quarter-mile dash between Wheeler, Toddy, Fawn, Sallus and Pomp, was won by Wheeler. A boy named Frey, Toddy's driver, was thrown at the wire.

In the two mile trotting race, Bell Spencer won; Tell second, Hayward, third.

To-night's Ball.

The ball to be given at Kimball Hall to-night cannot fail to be a complete success as everything has and will be done to make it so. Kaufman's full string band of eight pieces will furnish the music. The Hall has been entirely remodeled the music stand moved to the side, and the whole room generally improved.

Extravagance in Dress.

According to the census report, it costs the men $181,000,000 more for dress, than is expended by the women of this country, with all their finery. Newspapers should now quit harping about woman's extravagance in dress.

Is It a Saving?

It is claimed that $4,000,000 per annum will be saved by the recent reductions in the salaries of certain postmasters. It is more than likely that the efficiency of the service in some instances, at least, has been impaired.

Taken Back.

L. Stearn, the Carson Constable, came down last evening after Johnson, the man who was arrested at the noon train yesterday. It seems the prisoner is wanted for malicious mischief, in breaking Counselor Sodaberg's windows.

Sierra Valley Lumber.

Yesterday John McNair loaded two cars with 15,000 feet of Sierra valley sugar pine lumber, for the Salt Lake market. The lumber was very wide and from two to four inches thick, without a crack or knot.

Recent.

The Best Toilet Soap. The most economical. Good for the skin. Improves the complexion. Cures skin diseases. BIONCUTI is a great favorite with ladies who have tried it, because it gives a soft appearance to the skin which other soaps can impart. It does not leave that glossy, shining appearance on the face which is considered so objectionable. Only 10 cents a cake. Sold by all druggists.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES

—A destructive fire occurred at St. Louis last night.

—A special prize was awarded yesterday, by the Coney Island Jockey Club, to Jim Keene's thoroughbred stallion, Spendthrift.

—Lord Lansdowne was enthusiastically received by the citizens of Ontario last evening, by an illumination and a grand display of fire-works.

—Besides those killed by the explosion at Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania, yesterday, eleven girls, ranging from 11 to 16 years old, were terribly burned, many of them, it is thought, fatally.

SCROFULA

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores. "Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The ulcers were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me."

Yours respectfully, MRS. ANN O'BRIEN. 148 Sullivan St., New York, June 24, 1882.

All persons interested are invited to call on Mrs. O'Brien; also upon the Rev. Z. P. Willis of 75 East 54th Street, New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, not only in the cure of this lady, but in his own case and many others within his knowledge.

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, B. W. Ball, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June 7, 1882: "Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.

PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists; price $1, six bottles for $5.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker.

GENERAL NOTES.

At Norfolk, Virginia, the Republican County Convention unanimously passed resolutions declaring Mr. Blaine their choice for President, and Secretary Lincoln for Vice President.

When the vote was taken the colored delegates rose in their seats and sent up cheer after cheer.

Messrs. Siemens are energetically pushing the work of the new Mackay-Bennett cables. They will form a duplicate line from Ireland to Nova Scotia, continued from Nova Scotia by special cable to Cape Ann, and having a branch line from Ireland to France. The Messrs. Siemens are convinced that nothing superior ever came from their factories. They will introduce all the improvements suggested by years of research and experience. The length of the entire system of cables will be 5,000 miles. They will be laid by the steamer Faraday next summer.

There is a large Democratic majority in the Ohio Legislature just elected, and, of course, a Democratic Senator will be chosen to succeed Pendleton. This is, perhaps, a more important result than the election of Howdy for Governor, because it is a point gained in the contest for control of the Senate after March 4th, 1885.

Despite the venomous fight made against Pendleton by the Cincinnati Enquirer, his chances are now very fair to be his own successor. The Cincinnati delegation will not refuse to vote for him if he gets the caucus nomination, and that he will not probably do. In the opinion of a prominent Ohio Democrat, interviewed by the Washington Star, the only source of danger for Pendleton is that Thurman may come into the field as a candidate, and he stands so easily head and shoulders above every other man in the State that Pendleton would have difficulty in standing against him.—S. F. Alta.

FRANK AND CLEAR.

Having Admitted the Strength of the Evidence, an Eminent Physician Takes Logical Action.

The following letter tells its own story. The signature will be recognized as that of the Physician-in-Chief of the De Quincey Home, and author of "Drugs That Enslave," "The Hypodermic Injection of Morphine," "A Manual of Nursing," and many other popular and valuable special medical works:

191 WEST TENTH STREET, NEW YORK, August 11, 1883. Messrs. SHERRITT & JOHNSON, Gentlemen:—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about planning my faith to any new medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion.

My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine. Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and anti-septic dressing, made especially for the profession, the BENSON'S was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of lame back, local rheumatism, neuralgia, congestion of the bronchial tubes and lungs, dyspepsia, torpid liver and the like affections, and have begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPSINE PLASTER an exceptionally clear plaster to use and rapid in its action.

Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients, have convinced me that there is no other single article so valuable for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named.

Should you desire to do so you may use my name to that effect.

Very truly yours, H. E. RAVE, A. M., M. D. The genuine have the word CAPSINE cut in the center. Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.
